

An Afternoon at the Mansion!

For the first time in more than 30 years, the doors of the Curtiss Mansion will open to the public.

Be among the first to visit inside the home of national hero and transportation genius, Glenn H. Curtiss. See where he lived, worked and became an "incurable Florida addict." Visit the workshop where he created the last 10 of his more than 400 patents. Enjoy the open-air family room and learn a little more about local history.

The interior decoration is still a work in progress, but we couldn't wait any longer to share the Curtiss Mansion with you. Please join us on Sunday, April 1 for an afternoon at the Mansion!
