Dear Mayor Zavier M. Garcia, City Manager Ron Gorland, and the Miami Springs City Council:

Miami-Dade County Public Schools Department of Social Sciences is requesting the City of Miami Springs to host the 2012-2013 Miami-Dade County History Fair. The event is scheduled for Saturday, March 16, 2013 at the Miami Springs Recreation Center. Numerous public, charter, and private schools across Miami-Dade County will be participating in this year long culminating event. Middle and high school students will be exhibiting their research papers, projects, documentaries, web sites and performances as they related to history content. The exhibit fair and judging competition in Miami Dade County is part of the local level of the State of Florida History Fair. The top two winners from each category will advance to Tallahassee, Florida for the state competition and eventually to Washington, D.C. for the national level of the National History Day competition. Due to current budgetary constraints, the Department of Social Sciences is respectfully requesting for the City of Miami Springs to provide the use of the recreation center at no cost for this event.

Thank you for your consideration in assisting us in this worthwhile judging and showcase event for the community and for the students of Miami-Dade County. We look forward to your partnership with Miami-Dade County Public Schools as we share in the success and hard work of all the students, teachers, and schools that are participating in their quest to represent our District in the state and national levels of this important competition.

Sincerely,

Robert C. Brazofsky

Supervisor, Department of Social Sciences
